NATURED

NATURE-BASED SOLUTIONS FOR A JUST RESILIENCE IN THE ADRIATIC-IONIAN CITIES

NATURED project aims to enable policymakers to prevent the effects of climate change on different zones of urban areas, especially of flash floods and heat urban islands, by adopting Nature-based Solutions of adaptation which the most vulnerable groups will be the main beneficiaries.

The change expected is the promotion of a just, safe, and inclusive resilience, leaving no one behind when adapting to climate change.
